The Banff

In The Banff, every detail of the spaces layout has been designed to offer modern luxury. Three spacious bedrooms await on the lower and upper levels, while the main level is reserved for relaxing together or entertaining. Outdoors, enjoy an expansive balcony with breathtaking views. On the lower level, the oversized garage and storage room offer plenty of room to tuck away seasonal or outdoor items.

The Glacier

Designed with families and guests in mind, the Glacier floorplan features four spacious and luxurious bedrooms, each with its own private or semi-private bathroom. Meanwhile, the patio and mountain-view balcony extend the indoor living space into the great outdoors for a private, natural retreat. On the lower level, an extra storage room provides plenty of space to store outdoor equipment, bikes, and camping gear.

The Yoho

This spacious layout offers generous, open concept living with uninterrupted sightlines into the mountains. The kitchen island and floating fireplace are luxurious centerpieces for conversation and relaxation. After everyone has gone to bed, enjoy three generous bedrooms and four bathrooms, three of which are ensuites. Or, venture out for a late night, one of the mountains and stars from the 300 square foot balcony and patio.

The Kootenay

The Kootenay floorplan allows you to enjoy mountain views that extend from the kitchen and dining room, all the way to the floating fireplace in the main living area. The upper bedrooms are well-spaced and appointed with separate ensuites, each of which features his and hers sinks, as well as generous closet space. Next to the nanny suite downstairs, a sizeable storage room allows you to keep extra belongings clean and out of the way, but always easy to find.
