Residences

Live Exceptionally for All Seasons

"Seasons: Better than a single-family home." This is the guiding principle behind every design element that has gone into the creation of this bespoke collection of residences – and it shows. Three distinct colour schemes, including choices of wood grain, warm white, and a gorgeous sage green, are just the start.

Outdoor Living

The architecture and design of Seasons takes full advantage of the mild coastal climate that makes Vancouver so universally beautiful. These are homes with outdoor spaces given as much attention to detail as the interiors. Extend your living spaces beyond the typical four walls that define ordinary homes with many homes featuring rooftop patios large enough to create your dream oasis for capturing sunsets. Or, outfit your individual entry patio to create an outdoor lounge or herb garden. You're still at home even if you're enjoying the outdoors.
