Neighborhood

Homes are nestled in a quiet residential neighbourhood where trees soar above the rooftops, kids play outdoors, and neighbours know one another. This serene setting is only minutes away from the many urban conveniences at Austin Heights and The City of Lougheed. Shop for groceries, meet friends for dinner, or find clothes for your kids

Enriching Community Connection

Community parks in all directions feature playgrounds, sports fields, and trails, and a variety of nearby schools provide top education. Easily get around Metro Vancouver, with quick access to highways and SkyTrain stations. With so much at your doorstep, you will love where you live in West Coquitlam.

For Families Who Favour Space

Live expansively in these four-bedroom homes that stretch across three spacious levels. A den works perfectly as an office, workout studio, playroom, or nursery. An abundance of well-placed windows and soaring 12' ceilings on the main floor create bright, open spaces. Whatever your family dynamic, life flows effortlessly.
