SOUTHEAST FALSE CREEK'S MOST AFFORDABLE HOMES

Diverse cultures come together to live work and play in this world-class community. Run on the seawall, catch the SkyTrain downtown, explore the local art galleries or cycle the greenway: From the False Creek Flats you can do it all.

At the corner of Great Northern Way and Thornton Street, CANVAS neighbours the future Emily Carr University of Art + Design and the Centre for Digital Media. Connected to the city by the Central Valley Greenway and the SkyTrain, this is the city's new bright side.

FUTURE HOME OF EMILY CARR

Emily Carr University of Art + Design is moving to the Flats to join the Centre for Digital Media on the Great Northern Way Campus. The provincial government is investing millions to make this one of the smartest spots in Canada.

COMMUNITY

The False Creek Flats, an extension of the world class Southeast False Creek community – is Vancouver's emerging art district. At the crossroads of the city, Canvas is walking distance to the seawall, transit and restaurants while neighbouring the Great Northern Way Campus and future Emily Carr University of Art + Design.

WELCOME HOME

Artistic. Modern. Contemporary. Canvas's edgy design takes cues from its artistic neighbors with corrugated metal siding and bright splashes of colour. Inside meets outside with a lush, green landscaped courtyard and private rooftop patios.

THE BRIGHT SIDE

Canvas is the next bright idea coming to the False Creek Flats. At the crossroads of the city, Canvas is walking distance to the seawall, transit and restaurants, while neighbouring the Great Northern Way Campus and future Emily Carr University of Art + Design.

THE GREENWAY

The Central Valley Greenway, a 24 km bike-friendly trail is right at your doorstep, inviting you to explore the city on two wheels.

THE CULTURE

Explore the galleries of The Flats, shop the Main Street boutiques or grab a fresh pint at the soon-to-be-open Red Truck Brewery just down the street.

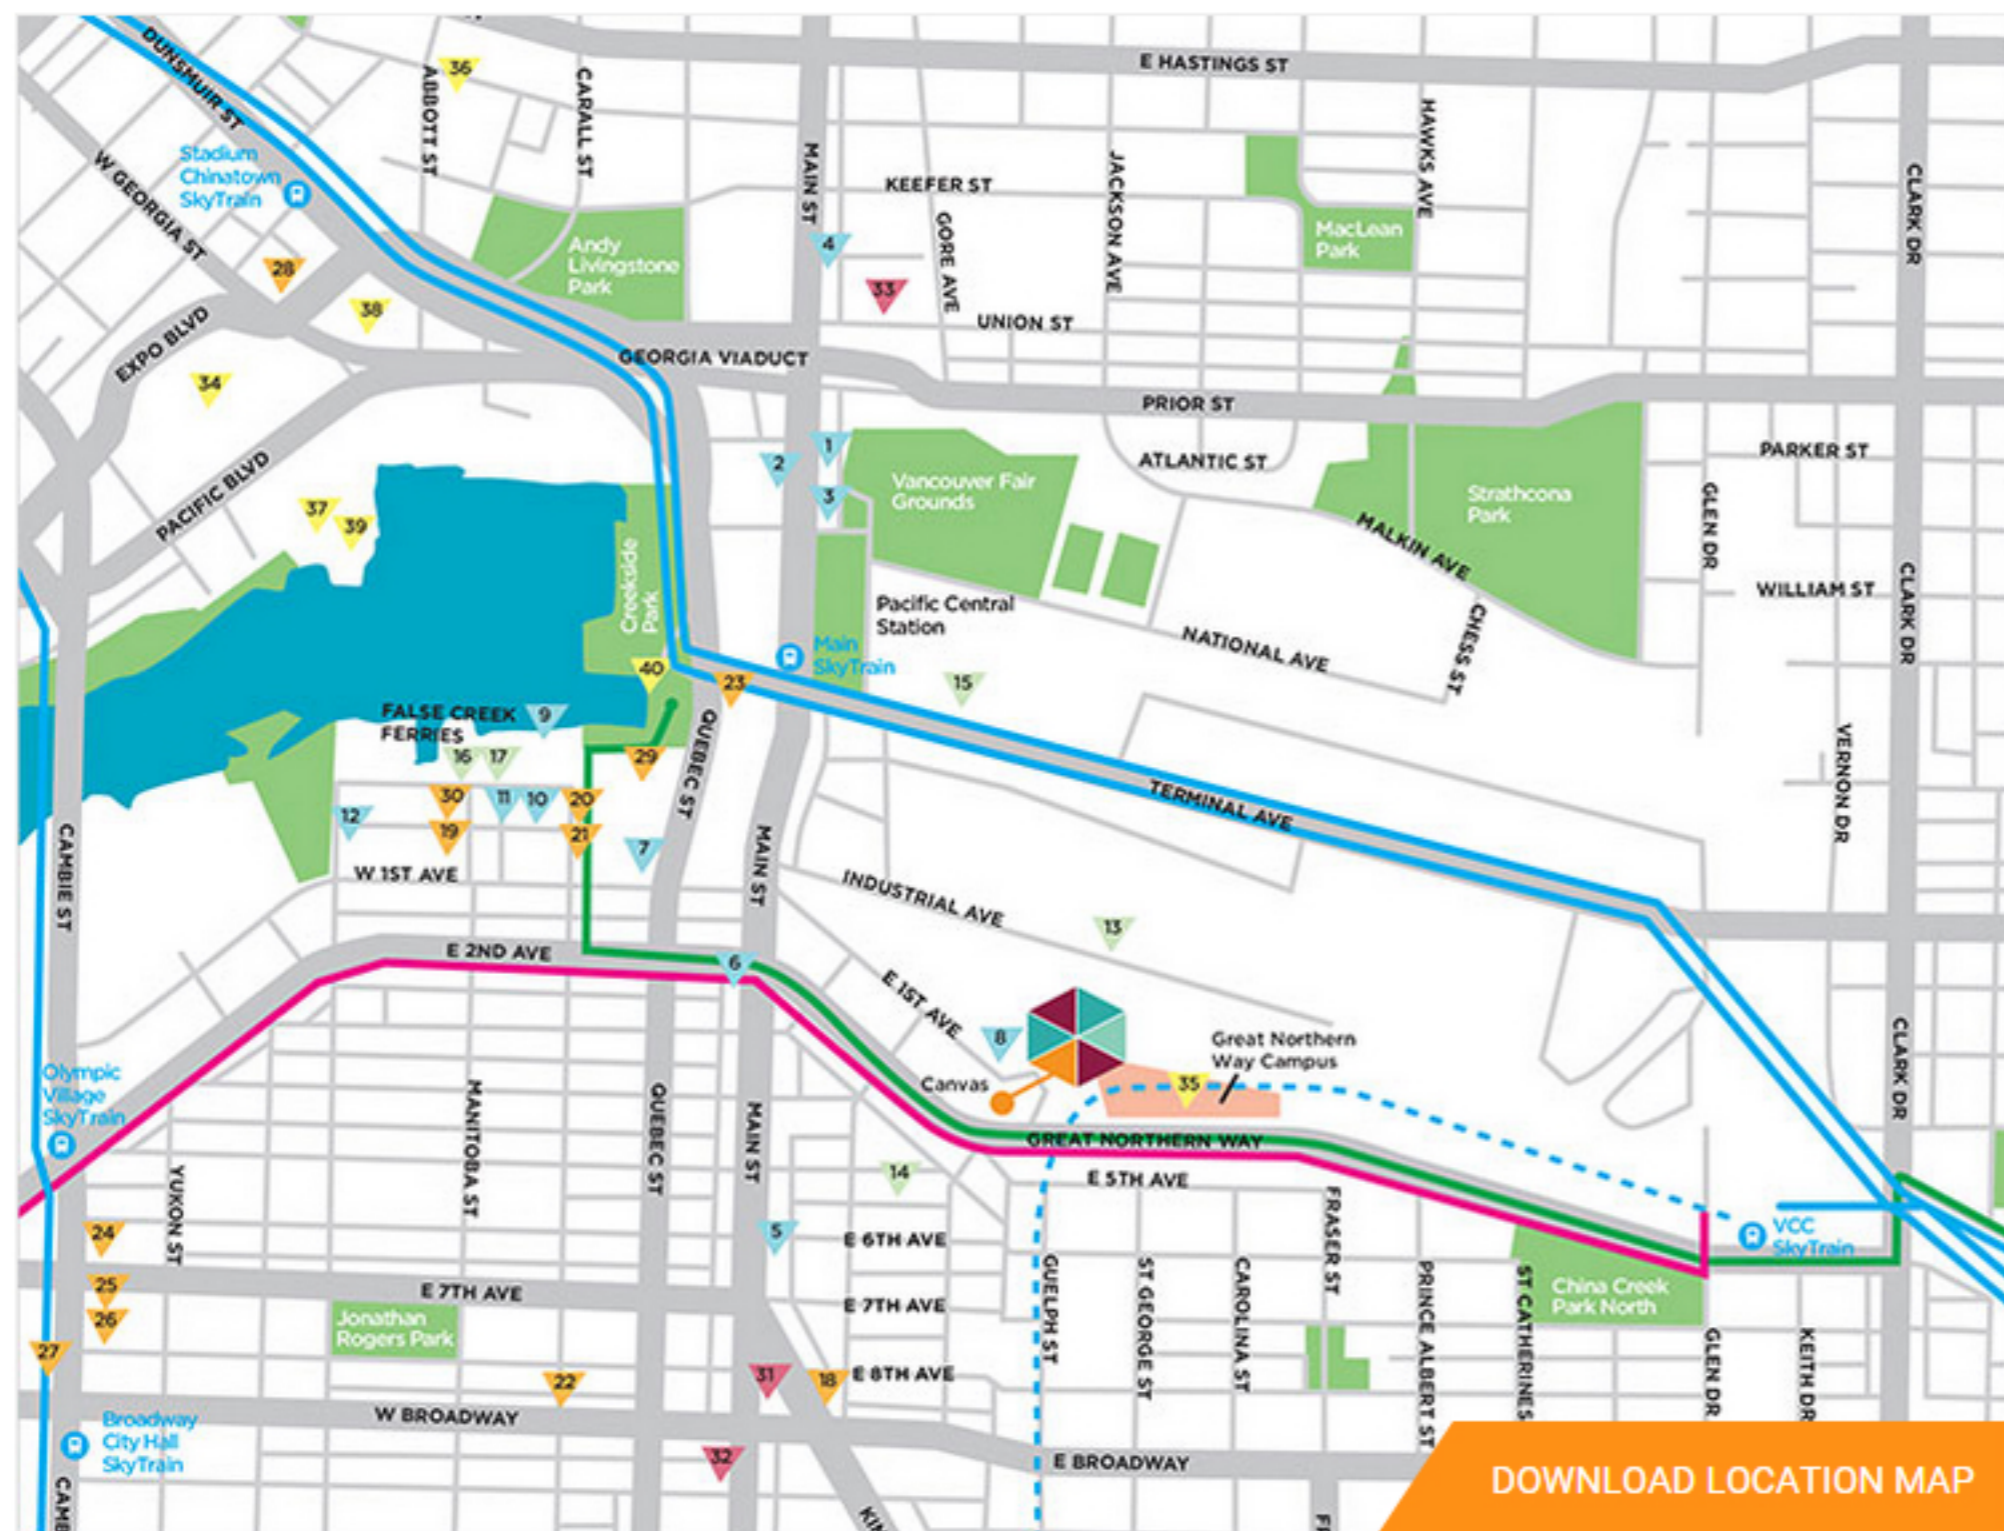

THE CAMPUS

Canvas neighbours the Great Northern Way Campus, home to the Centre for Digital Media and the future home of Emily Carr University of Art + Design.

ARTFUL ARCHITECTURE

Clad in corrugated metal and studded with splashes of colour, CANVAS is totally in tune with the neighbours at the False Creek Flats. Inside meets outside with a lush, green landscaped communal courtyard between the two buildings, and private rooftop patios. Artfully designed by gBL Architects, CANVAS is modern, inspired living. Set in the hub of a dynamic neighbourhood, the building reflects the vibrancy of the area with welcoming communal spaces for sharing and entertaining.

Meet and mingle with your neighbours in the communal courtyard, the artist gallery, the collective workshop space or in the fully equipped fitness centre. Step out your front door and hop on your bike – the Central Valley Greenway is at your doorstep and ready to connect you to all your favourite spots on a safe and dedicated bike lane.

BUILDING FEATURES

- Modern design by gBL Architects featuring corrugated metal, splashes of colour and private roof top patios
- Situated on the Great Northern Way Campus, home to the Centre for Digital media and future Emily Carr University of Art + Design
- Walking distance to the waterfront and transit stations
- Lush central courtyard divides the site which is located across from a future communal green space
