

about the building

HOUSS is a distinct building in a vibrant community, providing a mix of strata office, industrial space and a restaurant/service component on the main floor. Contemporary, minimalist architectural style provides an ideal surrounding backdrop for the Coulter House, an iconic Vancouver heritage home, which is incorporated as a focal point for the project.

The Victorian-era heritage home architecture is contrasted with sleek glass and metal finishes on the balance of the new building. Featuring spacious decks on multiple levels, the project has been thoughtfully designed both inside and out, providing spaces and specifications that truly meet the needs of active and growing community businesses.

Take the next step in the evolution of your business.

opportunities

own your space.

be part of a distinct collection of businesses in one houss.

recent news

modern dynamic
alive

Construction Complete at Houss!
We are excited to share that construction at Houss is now complete! Mount Pleasant will be buzzing soon with new purchasers moving in and making themselves at home. The neighborhood...

Join the Community of Businesses at HOUSS
With completion just weeks away, we are excited to get to know more about the purchasers who will make up the HOUSS community! The building will be home to a diverse range of businesses from tech...

