

Designed to be experienced.

Discover a life in sync at Ironwood. Coming soon to the entranceway of West Coquitlam.

Created in collaboration with acclaimed architect James K.M. Cheng, Ironwood has been designed to evoke exceptional moments in every part of your day.

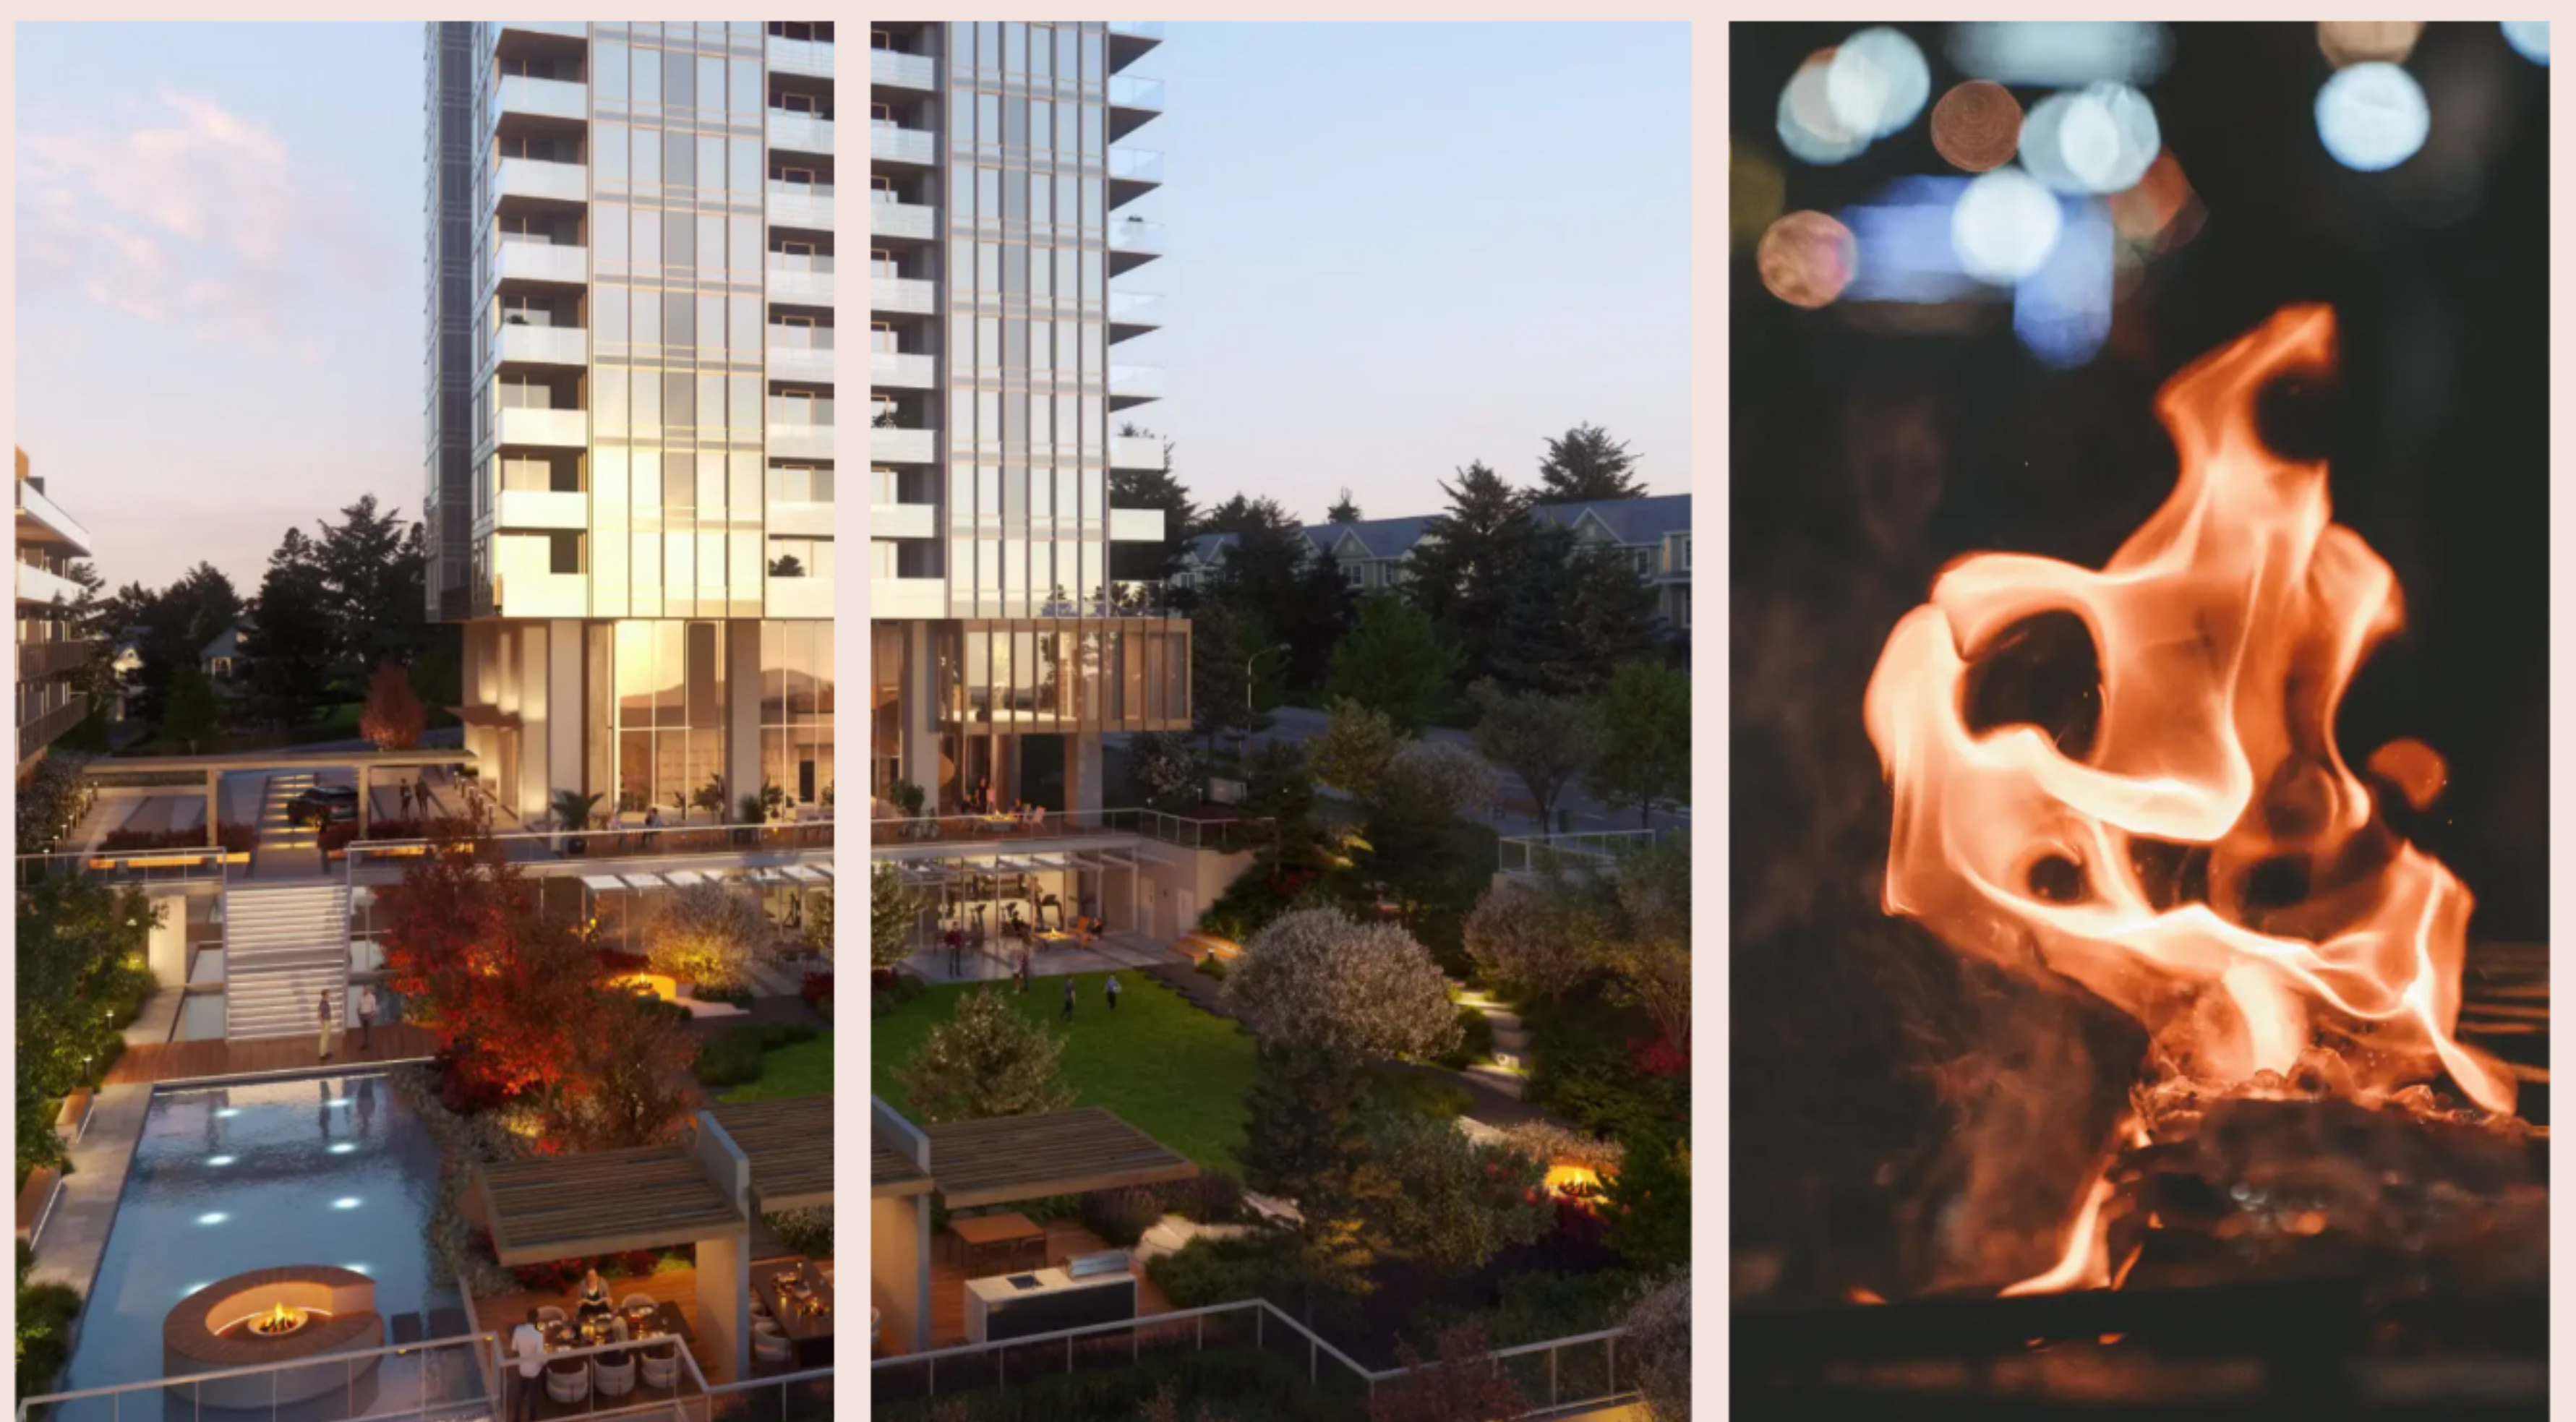

Where form blends seamlessly with style.

Whether it's the energy of the dynamic plaza upon arrival or quiet afternoons tucked away in lush gardens, Ironwood creates beautiful moments designed to give homeowners a blend of community and solitude throughout their days.

Connect with self and space.

From reflective pools to communal firebowls, Ironwood's shared spaces provide countless opportunities to connect with yourself and others around you.

Rest among the clouds.

Breathe in views of the mountains from a spa in the sky, or find your inspiration in dedicated creative and music rooms. However you prefer to thrive, Ironwood has the space for it.

Be the first to learn more about Ironwood.